

BPSS research fest: networking event –shaping the future

WHEN Wednesday 30th November 2022

WHERE: Online

WHY?

The BPSS has provided a constructive and collegiate networking platform for the development of sleep medicine in the UK.

Many of you responded enthusiastically to our research survey and suggested future research priorities.

We would love to harness this enthusiasm and creative energy through an inclusive online event for BPSS members.

We will welcome charities and strategic partners (e.g. RCPC and NIHR and key industry partners) as well as academic researchers in the field who are not clinicians.

FORMAT

The day will involve brief presentations to showcase the breadth of research interest nationally and rich opportunities to network in small groups.

Those interested in TECH can participate in a 'lion's den' style priority setting with industry

Registration details will follow in August.

Please save the date!